

Helen Glover
Short Biodata

Helen has worked in the field of science and technology for over 20 years, both in the UK and the Far East, where she was responsible for funding joint research programmes between the UK and Hong Kong. Since 2002, she has developed Enterprise Education programmes for the University of Reading and Simfonec Science Enterprise Centre at the Cass Business School. Currently, she is developing networks joining up the innovation ecosystem linking corporates, Venture Capitalists and high growth enterprises. She has a Masters degree in Science Entrepreneurship and is based in the Thames Valley in South East England.