

Pietro Ulliana was educated by and worked many years for one of the Swiss Leading Banks. Later he was successful in the Private Equity Scene. His experience, knowledge of the investment market and the over many years grown contacts to leading professionals allows him to identify quality investment opportunities early and then grow and support these investments over a long term, partnering with companies and realising value before many other investors are aware that an even opportunity existed.

Pietro Ulliana has a clear and defined vision about the future also as a co-founder and managing director of the SwissWorld Financing Group, where he subsequently identifies new investment opportunities.

The SwissWorld Financing Group is focusing on project financing - own investments and for investors, as well as commodity and exploration business.
